OLLI members enjoy a discount at the Gastronome—a large, all-you-can-eat cafeteria offering breakfast, lunch and dinner just steps from the Ruby Gerontology Center.

Give Back Through Collaboration

Through the OLLI-CSUF Collaboration Program, OLLI members share their life experiences and skills with University professors and students to help the next generation succeed in school and in life.

Opportunities include tutoring, mentoring, evaluating and sharing expertise in both academic and career/professional pursuits. CSUF students and faculty benefit from OLLI members' accumulated knowledge and wisdom. At the same time, OLLI members enjoy the intellectual stimulation and the opportunity to “give back” to the community.

What is OLLI?

OLLI offers lifelong learning for retired and semi-retired persons at California State University, Fullerton (CSUF). The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at CSUF (OLLI-CSUF) is one of 124 university-based Osher programs in the United States. Each OLLI reflects the culture of its university and community. Begun in 1979 as Continuing Learning Experience, OLLI-CSUF is one of the largest and best-known OLLIs with a diverse curriculum and extensive membership benefits. Lifelong learners at CSUF spearheaded the fundraising and supervised the on-campus construction of the Ruby Gerontology Center, where more than 95 percent of OLLI's programs are offered.

Today, OLLI offers programs of interest to new retirees and those planning to retire. Each semester's programs include educational lectures, discussion groups, computer education, physical activities, artistic creation & performing, special events and social activities ... all providing a place where you can do and learn interesting things and meet new friends. To view the current OLLI brochure, go to the OLLI-CSUF website.

COVID-19 Protocols

OLLI has successfully returned to campus. We plan to continue offering a mix of in-person and Zoom or livestreamed programs, recognizing that conditions may change requiring alternative plans for in-person attendance. As this goes to press, Cal State Fullerton requires that all OLLI members be vaccinated to come on campus, but masks are not required. We do strongly recommend masks be worn indoors as the COVID-19 virus is so unpredictable. Protocols may change. Check <http://olli.fullerton.edu/classes/covid-19.php> on OLLI's website for up-to-date information.

Campus Map

Access OLLI-CSUF's Ruby Gerontology Center (RGC) from: 1) Nutwood Ave. via Folino Drive; 2) from State College Blvd. via Gymnasium Drive; or 3) from Yorba Linda Blvd. via East Campus Drive (opposite Associated Road).

Parking Information

Parking for the Fall Open House on Saturday, August 6 is free in the State College Parking Structure, and the OLLI Trolley will take you to the RGC.

Parking on campus is free on Saturdays and Sundays. OLLI members receive a permit, included with their membership, good in many student parking lots and structures. During the week, visitors need a parking pass. Lot J, immediately east of the RGC, is exclusively for OLLI members.

The OLLI Trolley is free and travels between the OLLI Trolley stop (Lot G) and the RGC.

See OLLI's Blue Book or the OLLI website for more information.
